AUSTRALIAN MADE

Safeguard your Toyota Hilux or Fortuner with unparalleled underbody protection. Designed as a complete OE skid pan replacement, the UV-stabilised crosslink polymer Under Vehicle Armour (UVA) offers significantly greater underbody coverage to protect the vital components of your vehicle.

Designed and made in Australia, the purpose-designed UVA boasts a 10mm thickness and a distinctive shape, featuring a deep rib structure engineered for strength and to absorb impacts. This innovative design reduces shock to your vehicle during challenging situations and seamlessly restores itself to its original shape after an impact.

The Under Vehicle Armour is compatible with ARB Recovery points. It is suitable for use with the factory OE bumper, ARB SmartBar frontal protection systems, and the ARB Steel Bull Bar range.

The crosslink polymer utilised in the UVA is a durable formula resistant to high heat, corrosion, and rust. It not only provides robust properties, protecting your underbody from rocks, stumps, ruts and other hazards, but it also maintains a low vehicle mass (GVM). This long-term protection ensures your vital components remain protected, no matter what the elements throw your way.

Manufactured as four individual pieces, it allows easy removal during servicing with unmatched convenience. Protect your vehicle's undercarriage by fitting Australia's durable and lightweight solution.
